Dear Friends,

A joyous occasion is taking place here in Elroy on Saturday, September 10th. Thanks to the generous response of both businesses and individuals like yourselves, we will be dedicating our new "Welcome to Elroy" signs. Since fundraising began last February, we have been encouraged by the positive atmosphere surrounding our efforts.

We are hoping you can join us on September 10th at the Elroy Public Library at 12:00 for a light luncheon and reception honoring our many donors. At 12:30, a short program will highlight several unique facets of Elroy, recognize our native son, Governor Tommy Thompson, and dedicate the signs to the City of Elroy. Photo opportunities at one of the new signs will follow for all donors.

Mark your calendars, bring your family, friends, and colleagues, and join us for a great celebration!

Thank you again for making this day possible.
